The public has finally gotten its eyes open to the real issue of this campaign. When the conventions were being held in June both parties made an unsuccessful effort to hoodwink the public into believing that the issue would be "farm relief". Now the farmer has been almost forgotten. He is being left to find his own relief, which, in all probability, is the only way he can get relief. The Republican convention being held first, of course, let the party "out" when it came to choosing the campaign issue. The leaders knew full well that Smith would be the Democratic nominee, and they also had an inkling as to what the issue would be. Soon after Smith was nominated, the press of the country the wet and dry organizations, and "big" men with wet and dry views began to talk. Now the populace is aroused to such an extent that it would be almost impossible to change the issue. The general public is determined to console its peace of mind by finding out the sentiment of the majority on the wet and dry business, and right now, with an out-and-out wet and out-and-out dry at the head of the national ticket, is considered as good a time as any.

Civic organizations, such as the Marlinton Kiwanis Club, The Woman's Club, The Community Clubs,

Civic organizations, such as the Marjinton Kiwanis Club, The Woman's Club, The Community Clubs, do more to bring the people of a community together for good than any other agent. They bring people together on a common ground, to work out each other's problems.

The Droop Mountain Battlefield Park project is something every Pocahontas countian is becoming intensely interested in. Friday night the Kiwanis Club met with the citizens of Little Levels District to discuss Droop Mountain, and start the nucleus of an association to assist in the completion of the park. At the meeting the realization that a thing can be accomplished only through cooperation was brought out vividly. If the citizens of the Levels and Edray Districts can start the ball rolling and can secure the wholehearted assistance of the people of Huntersville and Greenbank Districts, the possibilities of getting an appropriation from the legislature large enough to put Droop Mountain Park in tip-top shape and getting it on the map are unlimited. Before the park has reached even a premature stage of completion, everybody in Pocahontas county will begin to reap a harvest far beyond their expectations. Tourists are people who go places to see things. The Droop Mountain Battlefield, with a historical background, coupled with the most picturesque scenery to be found anywhere in West Virginia, will be the one place in the state every tourist crossing the border will want to see—and every individual in the county will be benefited either directly or indirectly by the visit.

One of the leading Democrats endorse the Hoover-Curtis cause—been former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, author of the federal reserve act and of the farm loan act who announced that he would support Mr. Hoover for president, cause of the Republican candidate monumental record in preserving human life during and after the war.

"Herbert Hoover, in my opinion is the best qualified man ever presented by any party in America for the presidency during my lifetime," declared Senator Owen.

He asserted that Tammany is the only issue of the campaign between the candidates, and urged fellow Democrats to join him in fight to prevent "the Tammanyism of the government of the United States."

Another nationally-known Democrat who followed Owen's lead is Vance C. McCormick of Harrisburg, Pa., national chairman of the Democratic party in 1916.

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University, one of the country's known economists, who supported Woodrow Wilson in both 1912 and 1916 and has voted for Democratic presidential candidates since, came out with a ringing statement for Herbert Hoover, in which he emphasized the various counts on which the Republican candidate deserves the nation's support.

The resignation of Senator F. P. Simmons, veteran Democratic leader of North Carolina, from the Democratic national committee, on which he has served for 30 years, is regarded by political observers as one of the most severe thrusts yet meted out at the Democratic national ticket. Senator Simmons, whose influence in his own state has been equalled by few leaders in the country's political history, gave no reason for his resignation, but his uncompromising opposition to control of his party by the Tammany wing in the past supports a probable cause.
